

VARIED PROGRAM FOR BIG MEETING

Interesting Features for Horticulturists, Who Meet Next Week in Lynchburg.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
CROZET, VA., December 28.—The horticulturists of the state will hold their annual convention in the Y. M. C. A. Hall, at Lynchburg, on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of next week. In connection with this meeting the members of the society will have an exhibition of Virginia apples. Mr. Walter Whately, the secretary of the society, states that the varieties made indicate an exhibit of magnificent proportions. To increase the interest and give the members and public generally an object lesson of what they have to contend with in the larger markets, Dr. S. W. Fletcher, the director of the State experiment station at Blacksburg, has secured several varieties of Pacific coast apples from Oregon, Washington and Colorado, thus affording an opportunity of comparison, the result of which no producer of well-grown Virginia apples need fear.

To show the enthusiasm of some of the members, Mr. Whately says that one grower alone has made sixty-seven different entries, consisting of forty-one different varieties of apples, one of pears, and one of walnuts, all grown in his orchards. Several members have entered ten varieties and upward. The society intends to use some of these apples to advertise Virginia apples exhibiting them in Washington, D. C., and New York.

On the first afternoon of the meeting a field demonstration of spraying apparatus will be held in the City Park. Many speakers of national and international prominence will address the members on various topics of interest to horticulturists during the meetings.

The meeting will be open to the general public, but only members can take part in the discussions. The present officers of the society are among the most prominent fruit growers in the state, the president being Mr. George E. Murrell, of Bedford county. The vice-presidents are Messrs. H. C. Wyser, of Pulaski county; Judge F. S. Tavenner, of Woodstock; Dr. S. A. Robinson, of Albemarle county; W. A. McComb, of Augusta county; Dr. J. H. Guerrant, of Franklin county; and Hon. J. B. Watkins, of Chesterfield county. Professor H. L. Price, dean of the faculty at Blacksburg, edits the annual report of the society, and the secretary and treasurer is Walter Whately, of Crozet.

Each night session will be devoted to stereophonic views illustrating pruning, spraying and other orchard operations, orchard views of Pacific coast orchards and those of Virginia. One stereophonic picture will be devoted to civic league improvements and shade trees for city planting.

News of Petersburg

Times-Dispatch Bureau,
109 North Sycamore Street,
Petersburg, Va., December 28.

After the brief Christmas interval business has resumed its normal course, and everything is moving along smoothly here. The ringing of bells and the blowing of the steam whistles early this morning announced the reopening of the various factories and industrial plants of the city for work. Only the tobacco warehouses are silent, and they will not be reopened for sales until the 7th of January. The trade of the year has been exceptionally good, with promises of still better for the coming year.

Michael Savase, a Greek resident, employed at the Petersburg Lunch Room, on Sycamore Street, was robbed of $42 in money Saturday night. The robbery was committed by violence. He was seized by two men on Grove Avenue, forced to an alley, choked, and his money taken from him. The victim's cries attracted the attention of people in the neighborhood, and of Detectives Eames and Heelan, who were on duty. They arrested two negroes—Sam Brown and Joe Cross—charged with the highway assault and robbery, and are holding them for examination. No money was found on them, and they deny the charge, but suspicion is very strong against them. The victim bears visible marks of the choking he got.

Fiftieth Church Anniversary.
To-day is the fiftieth anniversary of the organization of Market Street M. E. Church. The fact was alluded to yesterday in his sermon by the Rev. J. T. Bosman, the pastor, who gave a brief history of the church and its progress. Among its pastors have been the Rev. Dr. John E. Edwards, by whom it was organized, December 28, 1853; Bishop J. C. Granbery, Rev. Dr. R. N. Siedd and other shining lights in the Virginia Conference. Dr. Edwards was twice the pastor of the church. Of the original board of stewards, Mr. J. P. Ravellman is the only one alive, and he has continuously held that office. The Salvation Army will give their annual Christmas tree and entertainment to the Sunday school to-morrow evening at the new army headquarters, on Bank Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Young left this morning to spend a week or ten days with friends in Baltimore. The occasion of the primary department of the High Street M. E. Church, of which Mrs. Richard Bagby is in charge, will be given their Christmas tree and entertainment to-morrow afternoon. This is the largest Sunday school in the city.

Miller has announced the approaching marriage of her daughter, Miss Irene Idona, to Mr. I. Willett Burrell, of Washington, D. C. The wedding will take place on Thursday, December 31st.

The boats were the Dixie, owned by Mr. Pierce Atkinson, the Pet, owned by Mr. E. H. Hoyer, and the Grace, owned by Mr. Robert Clayton.

KILLS HIS BROTHER.

Accidental Shooting, Tragic Termination of Rabbit Hunt.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
HARRISONBURG, VA., December 28.—A pathetic killing occurred Saturday afternoon at Dayton, when Artie Pence, the son of John Pence, accidentally shot and killed his brother, Melvin. The boys, who were aged eighteen and twenty-two, were hunting rabbits, when Artie, in attempting to shoot a rabbit, let the full charge go into his brother's body, tearing away three ribs and practically dismembering him, death being instantaneous. A sister of the young men was at a window and was a witness to the tragedy. She was prostrated, as was the younger brother, though the killing was purely an accident.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

The fight was the upshot of a trivial fuss, and Riggelman drew a knife and cut Fitzwater's face, neck and abdomen, making eleven cuts in all. Both men are said to have been drinking. Fitzwater is a married man, about fifty years of age, and is the father of several children. Riggelman is about twenty-two and is unmarried.

MOTION IS MADE FOR NEW TRIAL

Attorneys Claim That Samuels Was Illegally Debarred as Witness for Himself.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
DANVILLE, VA., Dec. 28.—Arguments for a new trial were heard to-day in the Corporation Court, Judge A. M. Aiken presiding, in the case of W. Belt Samuels, who was convicted last week of murder in the second degree for killing Sheriff William V. Flannagan, of Draper, N. C., and given eighteen years in the penitentiary. Judge Aiken took the motion under advisement.

A trial is being asked for on the grounds that the defendant, who, at the time of his sentence, was convicted perjurer under sentence in the Federal courts here, was debarred as a witness in his own behalf. Attorneys for Samuels contended that Samuels was convicted on an indictment improperly returned in the perjury case, and that even if the conviction was legal in the Federal courts this does not bar him as a witness in the State courts.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Haley, after being fined $1 and costs for fast driving, on a warrant sworn out by Officer W. H. Fuller, said that Fuller lied. He was then fined $10, to which he responded that Officer Fuller told a "d-d lie." A fine of $20 was added for this second offense for contempt of court. NOW HAS DIRECT LINE TO NORWAY

Norfolk Expects Great Things to Develop Through Inauguration of New Shipping Route.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
NORFOLK, December 28.—The Norwegian steamer Texas, Captain Pederson commanding, the first regular line of the Norwegian-Mexican Gulf Line, which has made Norfolk a port of stop for passengers and freight, arrived in the port yesterday afternoon, and to-day was the object of great interest among the shipping circles and citizens generally.

With the coming of the Texas, Norfolk secures her first trans-Atlantic line, with regular monthly calls for freight and passengers. It is expected that in short order the line will develop along both lines, and necessarily more frequent steamers, and the hope is that the company will soon have to establish an exclusive line into Norfolk. It means that the city has a direct line from this country to Norway, with stated sailings both ways. The vessel continues on to Texas and Mexican ports.

The Texas is of 5,000 tons register. She had 155 tons of freight aboard for Norfolk and three passengers. American seamen returning home. There were fourteen other passengers bound for Texas and Mexico.

The greatest interest centres in the fact that there is a chance for the State of Virginia, North Carolina and other Southern Commonwealths to secure direct immigration through Norfolk, and from Norway and Sweden, recognized to be a desirable and thrifty people. It is expected that exploitation along this line will be done. With the aid of the railway employing this line of European shipments, it is believed that the line will soon be on a paying basis.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
SOUTH BOSTON, VA., December 28.—Hon. E. W. Robinson, of Goldsboro, former United States District Attorney for Eastern North Carolina and late judge of the Superior Court of that State, delivered a most unique, original and forceful address in advocacy of temperance to a large crowd at Edmunds' Warehouse to-night. Judge Robinson, with keen wit, dealt out sledge-hammer blows for temperance, and his speech was somewhat in the nature of a reply to Hon. Thomas Settle, who spoke here for the "wet" a short time ago.

Norfolk Very Orderly.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
NORFOLK, VA., December 28.—The police of the city admit that this Christmas-tide, all told, was the most orderly and best observed in recent years. Usually it is a trying time for the department, but this year both Christmas Eve and Christmas Day were quiet and Sunday following was quiet and orderly, both in Norfolk and Portsmouth. There were few arrests for drunkenness, and no rioting, shooting or cutting. In past years it was common during Christmas week to record several murders and serious assault affairs. The Fire Department also had an easy time, the Bernard fire of last week being the only one of consequence during the holiday season.
